Lloyd George and Mil- lerand to Give All Possible Aid

WILL RENEW BLOCKADE

Military and Naval Assistance to Be Rendered Poland in Fight Against Reds

GERMANY WARNED TO KEEP OUT

Allies Will Occupy Ruhr Region If She Attempts to Aid the Bolsheviks

London, Aug. 8. — The Moscow government has notified the British government that it has been arranged for Polish delegates to cross the Russian front on the evening of August 9 and formal armistice and peace negotiations to begin at Minsk August 11.

Hythe, England, Aug. 8. — Great Britain and France are convinced that the Bolsheviks intend to capture Warsaw and set up a Soviet government in Poland.

This was learned from an official source tonight following an announcement at the conference between Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Premier Millerand of France, held today to discuss the Polish situation, when the Premier will pass upon naval, military and economic plans for saving Poland. These plans are being drawn up to night by Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the British imperial staff.

These were the outstanding developments of the day and followed an official announcement that the Soviet government had, definitely refused a 10-day truce requested by Lloyd George as a result of Friday's meeting with the Russian mission headed by M. Kamenec and M. Krassin.

To Lend Poland Aid

While there has been no talk of officially declaring war on Russia, the allies have decided to give Poland all possible military, naval and economic assistance without delay.

The Premier received two notes from Moscow today for a truce. Tonight they sent another note to the Soviet and also advised Poland to seek a truce direct from the Bolsheviks, who indicated in their refusal of the truce that if the request came direct from the Poles it might have a better chance of being granted. One of the notes received from the Bolsheviks today said a meeting of the Poles and Russians had been called for Minsk next Wednesday and the Bolsheviks preferred to make their own arrangements with the Poles.

Urges a Defensive Line

The French are urging the establishment of a defensive line in Poland, either before Warsaw or immediately behind the capital if it is too late now for the former. Mr. Millerand also proposed that the French and British troops in the plebiscite areas be used for this line, chiefly for moral support, and that Rumania and Czechoslovakia also be asked to send troops.

At the close of the conference, which lasted until after 5 o'clock this evening, M. Millerand presented for the approval of the British delegates a declaration he had drafted. The substance of this constituted a warning to Germany that if an attempt is made in any way to co-operate with the Bolsheviks an army of the Allies will occupy the Ruhr region and other points in German territory. Mr. Lloyd George has not yet indicated his approval of the declaration, but French officials believed that he will agree to it, and that the warning will be conveyed to Germany either directly or by an Allied declaration.

The Meeting With Reds

Further details of the meeting in London Friday between the Bolshevik representatives and Mr. Lloyd George were learned tonight by The Associated Press. M. Krassin and M. Kamenec apparently thought they would be able to induce the Moscow government to accept the terms of a truce, and the refusal of the Soviet government is taken in conference circles here as meaning that Kamenec and Krassin have but minor influence with Premier Lenin and War Minister Trotsky.

At the conference, Lloyd George offered every guarantee that the truce would not be used as a means for reinforcing the military position of the Poles. The British Premier went so far as to agree to have Bolshevik officers behind the Polish lines to see that the terms of the truce were rigidly enforced. The Premier answered all the Russian objections to the plan, and Kamenec sent the plan to Moscow by wireless with a recommendation that it be adopted.

In British and French circles tonight it is admitted that the situation created by the Bolshevik refusal of a truce has brought about a crisis only second in gravity to that which confronted the Allies in 1914.

Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson took a prominent part in the morning discussions, and it has been learned from an official source that Allied aid for Poland will center in Marshal Foch.

The memorandum for the truce was drafted at Friday's meeting between Mr. Lloyd George and M. Krassin and M. Kamenec and sent by wireless to Moscow for an immediate reply. The purpose of the truce was to hold the Bolsheviks' onward rush on the ground they now occupy and to arrange a temporary peace within the next ten days. The Poles and the Allies were to agree not to improve the Polish military position, while the Bolsheviks were to remain on the line they occupied on the day of the truce.

Reds Draw Near Warsaw

Warsaw, Aug. 8. — Osprotenka, on the Narw river northeast of Warsaw, has been captured by the Bolsheviks after a two-days' fight.

The Bolsheviks now have reached a point 70 kilometers northeast of Warsaw.

Sow Bolshevik Propaganda Broadcast
Warsaw, Aug. 8. — (11 a. m.) Bolshevik aviators flying over the Polish lines have scattered broadcast propaganda countless signed by Felix Dzerzhynski, president of the revolutionary committee in Poland saying "make your officers prisoners and let us jointly march on Warsaw."

The Poles are appealed to in the pamphlet to wipe out the aristocracy and make Poland a great communist country. The pamphlets declare that the Bolsheviks are marching on Warsaw with the rest of motives—to save the country from the land-owners' rule.

The Reds are gradually creeping up on Warsaw. They are reported now to be only 60 kilometers away and preparing for a quick sweep onward. Asked regarding the foreign legations, the Premier said representatives desiring to stay with the government did so on their own responsibility.

It is announced that Cardinal Ratti, papal nuncio at Warsaw, will remain in Warsaw if the capital falls into the hands of the Bolsheviks.

The newspapers today print articles criticising Poles who are leaving the city, declaring they should not be allowed to return.

Poland's Situation Desperate

Paris, Aug. 8. — Poland's situation is desperate. It seems clear that the Moscow government has no intention to suspend hostilities, but is striving to the utmost to capture Warsaw.

The latest news received in Paris tonight is to the effect that the Bolsheviks are massing troops in the region north of the capital, for a drive upon Warsaw in conjunction with the movement of troops from the east.

There is no doubt that the Bolsheviks have crossed the Bug river on a wide front. The Poles, however, have thrown up defenses west of the river, and French military opinion based on the fatigue of the Bolsheviks and the fairly supply departments, maintain that the Poles have a chance of winning the great tussle for the capital.

Bomb Warsaw Port

London, Aug. 8. — The outer port of Warsaw has been under bombardment since Friday morning, says a wireless despatch received from Berlin today.

The Poles are returning the Bolshevik fire

May Be Communist Plot
Warsaw, Aug. 8. — A plot, believed to have been of communist origin and designed to blow up general army headquarters has been discovered in Warsaw. Many persons have been arrested and great quantities of arms and ammunition confiscated in the old Russian cathedral, which is situated just across the street from army offices.

Russia Ready to Withdraw

London, Aug. 8. — Russia is ready to start withdrawing her forces to the line stipulated in 1915 by the supreme council, providing Poland agrees to the armistice terms, according to a statement issued by the Russian delegation in London today.

Before receipt in Moscow of the note dispatched as a result of Friday's conference between Premier Lloyd George and Leo Kamenec of the Russian delegation, today's announcement says, the Soviet government instructed its delegation to communicate to the British government, the following statement:

of the armistice terms, which will deal principally with reduction of her army strength, the Soviet republic will be prepared to begin withdrawal of her troops to the line drawn by the supreme council in 1915 and indicated again by Earl Curzon, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, in his note of July 26, to M. Tchitcherin, Bolshevik foreign minister."

Poles Still Hold Warsaw

Washington, Aug. 8. — Indications that the Polish government still was in Warsaw early today were contained in advices received tonight by the Polish legation here. The military situation was described as improved.

Volunteers have reached the army under General Haller defending Warsaw from the north, the advices to the legation stated, and the position of the Poles on that front has been strengthened. The fourth arm defending Brest-Litovsk also has been strengthened, the advices add.

The Polish foreign office in another communication to the legation, denied that 80 Jewish counselors had been arrested and condemned to death. Several Jewish municipal officials were arrested, the foreign office said, but were liberated.

TO NOTIFY ROOSEVELT OF NOMINATION TODAY

Many of Country's Prominent Democrats Will Attend Ceremonies At Hyde Park

Hyde Park, Aug. 8. — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic vice presidential nominee, arrived here tonight from Dayton, O., where he attended the notification ceremonies of his chief, James M. Cox, to prepare for his own notification which will be held here tomorrow. The exercises will take place at Springwood, the Roosevelt ancestral estate at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Owing to the limited hotel facilities here and in Poughkeepsie, the Dutchess county seat, comparatively few of the party leaders had arrived tonight. Most of them stayed in New York or Albany and planned to come here by train and motor tomorrow. Hyde Park and Poughkeepsie are in holiday attire for tomorrow's festivities. Hundreds of American flags adorn public and business buildings and residences, while lithographic posters of the Democratic candidate have been posted profusely in all public places.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Governor Smith, Chairman White of the Democratic national committee, William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and William C. Redfield, former secretary of commerce, are among the prominent party leaders who have promised to attend.

TONZI AUDIT NEARLY READY

No Idea of Approximate Liabilities of Boston Wizard Has Yet Been Indicated

Boston, Aug. 8. — The result of the federal audit of the Securities Exchange company conducted by Charles Ponzi, probably will be made known to United States Attorney Gallagher tomorrow. Those associated with the federal auditor said that the audit was practically complete.

They gave no indication of the approximate amount of Ponzi's liabilities. Ponzi declared today that his liabilities were between $400,000 and $500,000 and that his assets in one bank alone amounted to more than $3,000,000.

He said that when his office reopened for business tomorrow no cash would be taken, but applications to deposit money with him would be accepted.

LUNN IS DETERMINED TO LAND SENATE SEAT

Schenectady's Mayor Declares His Intention to Fight For Primary Nomination

New York, Aug. 8. — Mayor Lunn of Schenectady in a statement here tonight declared his intention to fight in the primaries for the nomination for United States senator on the Democratic ticket.

He declared that "designation of a ticket" at the recent unofficial Democratic state convention at Saratoga Springs, which recommended Lieutenant Governor Walker for the senatorship, was brought about by Tammany and certain up-state leaders "under the camouflage of suggestion." The state at Saratoga, declared the Mayor's statement, was framed secretly by political machine leaders before any open suggestions were offered.

Reviewing the proceedings of the unofficial state convention, Mayor Lunn said he has never acknowledged supremacy of political bosses over individual candidates and has no intention of beginning to do so now. "I will take the issue directly to the enrolled Democratic voters of the state," he said. He added that he would give unequalled support to the platform and decision of the Democratic national convention and to the state platform in all matters of state affairs.

Mayor Lunn said he would emphasize with all the power at his command the supreme issue of the campaign—the League of Nations — and declared that "a scuttling of funds holds very little interest to the people at a time when the world is trembling at its base." He said the question of prohibition was definitely settled when the eighteenth amendment became part of the constitution and was upheld by the unanimous decision of the United States supreme court.

SAILORS FIGHT POLICE WHEN BUDDY IS SEIZED

Soldiers With Bayonets Fixed, End Battle Royal At Revere Beach (Massachusetts) Sunday

Revere, Mass., Aug. 8. — Federal troops from Fort Banks were rushed to Revere Beach tonight, after a crowd of sailors and marines had attacked a Metropolitan Police officer, who had attempted to arrest a sailor on a charge of drunkenness and attacked the police station.

Thousands of Sunday pleasure seekers looked on as the sailors and marines, joined by a few soldiers and numbering more than 400, took the prisoner from the officer and then gave battle to other members of the force. Some of them seized rifles from nearby shooting galleries and opened fire on the police station. The police returned the fire with revolvers and shot guns. Five sailors were seriously wounded and there were many minor injuries.

Help was summoned from Fort Banks, the Chelsea police and the Boston navy yard. A detachment of 500 soldiers from Fort Banks, with fixed bayonets hurried to the scene and proceeded to clear the beach. The police estimated the crowd at the beach at the time of the rioting to be 100,000.

The naval authorities gave orders to the navy provost guard that every sailor in Revere was to be arrested. Late tonight, more than 100 have been placed under arrest, and the authorities seemed to have gained control of the situation.

Several policemen were injured in the fighting, none seriously. The excitement among the onlookers was intense, especially when the officers fired volleys over their heads in an effort to frighten away their attackers. Women and girls screamed and some of them fainted in the crush as the crowd pressed close to watch the battle.

COX WILL CARRY CAUSE TO PEOPLE

Democratic Ideals As Outlined In Acceptance Speech Will Be Dis- cussed Publicly By Nominee

TOUR BEGINS AUGUST 14

Ten Immediate Engagements Beginning at Wheeling, W. Va., Are Announced

Dayton, O., Aug. 8. — Ten immediate engagements for Governor Cox to carry personally to the people the Democratic cause outlined yesterday in his address accepting the presidential nomination, were announced tonight.

The Governor will begin his traveling campaign next Thursday at Camp Perry, Ohio. Other dates announced were: August 14, at Wheeling, W. Va.; August 17, Columbus, O.; August 19, South Bend, Ind.; August 21, Canton, O.; August 25, Evansville, Indiana; August 27, Pittsburg, Pa.; August 28, New York city; September 2, Columbus, O.

Other engagements probably will be added and early in September the Governor will proceed with his trip to the west, including the Pacific coast, with itineraries thereafter virtually until election day.

The immediate speaking plans were made today by the Governor in conjunction with George White, chairman of the Democratic committee, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, managing the speaker's bureau.

The Governor's address yesterday and the demonstration will push Senator Harding from his front porch," said Senator Harrison in announcing the present itinerary, "and, mark my prediction, before many weeks have passed they will have him (Mr. Harding) speaking in former Republican strongholds to stem the tide of democracy."

In his address here Saturday accepting the Democratic nomination, Governor Cox militantly championed the league of nations as proposed by President Wilson, with interpretations insuring good faith and understanding, and denounced what he termed the dishonorable proposal from Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, for "a separate peace with Germany."

League or no league, the Democratic nominee declared, is the issue between the two parties—the supreme issue of the century," he said. "The question is, Governor Cox declared, "whether we shall or shall not join in this practical and humane movement. President Wilson entered the league in our name. Senator Harding, as the Republican candidate for the presidency proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the Democratic candidate I favor going in."

Feel Duty to Ratify Treaty

"The first duty of the new administration will be ratification of the treaty," Governor Cox said, predicting that friends of the league of nations would rally to elect a senate with the requisite majority for ratification.

Governor Cox said the "interpretations" should state "our interpretations of the covenant as a matter of good faith to our associates and as a precaution against any misunderstanding in the future." Assailing the Lodge reservations as emasculating, Governor Cox suggested two specific "interpretations," as outlined several months ago in a newspaper article. One declared America's continuance in the league of nations should depend upon the league's use only as an agency for world peace; the other stated the understanding that this nation could act only within the constitution, declared unalterable by any treaty.

The door to other "interpretations" was left open by Governor Cox, but he said that the Democratic plank speaks in a firm resolution against anything that disturbs the vital principles of the league.

No room for doubt was left as to the Governor's position on the league as the pre-eminent political battle ground. As on other subjects, he stated his position squarely.

"We are in a time which calls for straight thinking, straight talking and straight acting," he said. "It is no time for wobbling."

In position, the league question led the candidate's address and to it he devoted three thousand words of the 10,000 total.

Prohibitions Question

The prohibition amendment and Volstead law were not specified in the address, but Governor Cox promised emphatically strict law enforcement.

"The constitution," he said, "is the license and limitation given to and placed upon the lawmaking body. The legislative branch of government is subjected to the rule of the majority. The public official who fails to enforce the law is an enemy both to the constitution and to the American principle of majority rule. It would seem unnecessary for any candidate for the presidency to say that he does not intend to violate his oath of office. Any one who is false to that oath is more unworthy than the law violator himself."

"Morals cannot easily be produced by statute," Governor Cox continued in passing to a plea against abuse of the writ of injunction.

COX SPEECH ATTACKED BY HARDING BOOSTERS

"Curious Mixture of Errors and Misstatements," Say Those Who Ridicule Speech

Marion, O., Aug. 8. — Assailing Governor Cox's speech of acceptance as "a curious mixture of errors and misstatements," Senator Harding's headquarters replied at length in an official statement tonight to the Governor's criticism of the record of the Republican congress on taxation, finances and the league of nations.

The Republican party, the statement said, is ready to join battle on the questions of whether "the senate attempted to subvert and did subvert the wish and purpose of the American people in preventing ratification of the President's league."

Charges that the Republican senate had made no effort to reduce the war time tax burdens were described as "far from recorded facts," and it was declared that by opposing Democratic appropriation proposals the present congress had effected a saving of $2,414,115.144 in government expenditures.

The statement also asserted that by suggesting repeal of consumption taxes and enactment of a blanket one and one-half per cent levy on the total business of going concerns Governor Cox had shown "that he has no program whatever except to appeal for the support of people who want somebody else to pay the taxes."

"A leadership which would distort these outstanding facts as Governor Cox has done it," it continued, "will hardly command confidence when the country turns attention to the problem of our fiscal future."

AERIAL MAIL DELIVERY

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 8. — Two all-metal air planes that left New York city July 29 to blaze a trail for a trans-continental aerial mail service, landed at an Oakland flying field late today. J. M. Larsen, owner of the planes, delivered to Postmaster Joseph J. Rosebrough a package of New York mail, constituting what was said to be the first transcontinental aerial mail delivery on record.

Governor Cox urged ratification of the proposed constitutional amendment, declaring women "are entitled to the privilege of voting as a matter of right, and because they will be helpful in maintaining wholesome and patriotic policy."

His opposition—candidate, platform, leaders and congressional record—were flayed by Governor Cox in scathing terms throughout his long address. A "senatorial oligarchy" led by Senators Lodge, Penrose and Smoot, Governor Cox charged, selected Senator Harding to lead the Republicans and fastened "into the party platform the creed of bitterness and hate and the vacillating policy that possesses it." The Republican stand, generally, was scored by the Governor as reactionary and, on the league question, he said the party's candidate was bent to the irreconcilable hostility of Senator Johnson of California. The Republican congress, the Governor asserted, failed to pass a constructive law or to reduce war taxes.

Millions for Reactionary Cause

Millions in campaign funds have been gathered for "the reactionary cause," the governor charged, deploring election of a new administration "under corrupt auspices" and demanding publicity for "the plain truth" regarding all contributions and disbursements. The Democrats, he added, would not attempt "to compete by dollars." He warned the country against "cunning devices backed by unlimited prodigal expenditures—to confuse and lure."

Governor Cox said he took up the Democratic standard "a free man, unfettered by promises."

"We want a change," he said, "from the old world of yesterday where international intrigue made people mere pawns on the chessboard of war. We want a change from the old industrial world where the man who toiled was assured a 'full dinner pail' as his only lot and portion. We stand at the forks of the road. One leads to higher citizenship, a freer expression of the individual and a fuller life for all. The other leads to reaction, the rule of the few over the many and the restriction of the average man's chances to grow upward. But I have abiding faith that the pitfalls will be avoided and the right road chosen."

"The leaders opposed to democracy promise to put the country back to normal." This can only mean the so-called normal of former reactionary administrations.

"Our view is toward the sunrise of tomorrow. The opposition stands in the skyline of the setting sun, looking backward, at the old days of reaction."

A graceful tribute to President Wilson was paid by Governor Cox when, in scoring the Republican platform for "absence of a line that breathe emotion of pride" in the nation's war achievements, he said that while "soldiers fell in the trenches Mr. Wilson was broken in the enormous labor of his office."

The Republican proposal for a separate peace, Governor Cox declared, would be "the most disheartening event in civilization since the Russians made their separate peace with Germany." Citing difficulties in the plan, Governor Cox said that if accomplished "no nation in good standing would have anything to do with either of us."

Regarding woman suffrage, Governor Cox said that if accomplished "no nation in good standing would have anything to do with either of us."

IRISH COERCION LAW DENOUNCED

Head of United Irish League Bitterly Assails Statute Passed By House of Commons

WORST EVER PROPOSED

Power As Great As That of Any Czar Is Accorded Ireland's Executive, He Claims

London, Aug. 8. — J. P. O'Connor, president of the United Irish League of Great Britain, bitterly denounced the Irish coercion law passed by the house of commons last week in a statement to the Associated Press last night. The law, he said, was the "worst coercion ever proposed in the British parliament, and, indeed, without a precedent in the parliamentary acts of any country in the history of the modern world."

"It gives the executive in Ireland," he continued, "a power as great as any czar ever claimed. It surrounds the exercise of his power with impenetrable secrecy. A man may be tried for his life in secret, convicted in secret, sentenced in secret and hanged in secret. It gives to the government the right to make anything an offense. The refusal to work, to carry munitions, to hold a meeting, to sing a song, to refuse to supply the police with food—everything is left to the will of the executive."

Anything May Be An Offense

"The government refused to accept an amendment presented by liberals and even by its supporters. This would have inserted a proviso which would prevent the creation of new offenses. The government replied that it wanted carte blanche, and that anything would be made an offense in Ireland, even though such action would not be an offense in the criminal code of any land in the world. Finally, the government refused every amendment to define the duration of the act—it is forever and ever."

"Mark the contrast. On Tuesday night, Premier Lloyd George postponed real Irish liberty to an indefinite date; on Friday, he gave Ireland coercion for all time. This is a policy which I have again and again declared in the house of commons was coupled with vacillation and divided councils. The rebel movement led by Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader and the grovelling servitude of the premier to Sir Edward are mainly responsible for the chaos and anarchy which prevail in Ireland today."

Chief Secretary Defends Law

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, on the other hand, defended the law, declaring its purpose was to do justice in Ireland. "The economic ruin of Ireland," he said, "is threatened because of the political situation unless the moderate people of that country save it. I am glad to say leading business men without regard to creed, and members of both the unionists and nationalist parties are endeavoring to organize moderate opinion in Ireland."

"The sole object of the legislation is to give that disturbed country impartially enforced laws. The court may be described as court martial, with legal assessors."

"Establishment of an independent Irish republic would be fatal to the security of the empire and, I believe fatal to Ireland. In my opinion, the Roman Catholic hierarchy under the leadership of its revered head, Cardinal Logue, views with horror the era of crime and murder in Ireland."

BIG SUFFRAGE FIGHT OPENS IN TENNESSEE

State Legislature in Extraordi- nary Session Will Decide Most Important Contest Every Waged

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 8. — The Tennessee legislature will meet in extraordinary session tomorrow at noon to consider ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment.

With 35 states already having acted favorably and with ratification by only one more state necessary for woman suffrage to become effective throughout the nation, suffrage and anti-suffrage workers from all parts of the country were here tonight preparing for what is considered as probably the most important contest a general assembly has faced since congress submitted suffrage ratification to the states.

Indications tonight were that plans of leaders to begin consideration of ratification at the first day's session probably would not materialize.

Schlansker Ineffective Against Cubs, Who Drive in Two Runs for Each Inning of Game—Cubs at Walton Today.

Weidman's Cubs meandered into Neahwa park Saturday afternoon with their batting hopes high and kept them elevated throughout the game, which followed Brodie's "play ball." Schlansker was on the mound for Schenectady and the Cubs found him real easy. There were some innings in which the local aggregation failed to score, but that was due to the holding back of the mound rather than to the pitcher's work. It was good fielding that kept the score even as low as it was. Only one of the Kipnokie outfit fanned; that was Dempsey, who was retired on one that Brodie missed. The Mohawk team made only three hits off the offerings of Kibbe, one of them being a double. After the first round Kibbe allowed but one hit. The Oneonta clouters—and they were clouters Saturday—hit Schlansker for an even dozen hits, including five doubles and a homer.

The visiting club started off with a rush. Johnson, first up, hit to Dempsey, who let it get through him. Foian sacrificed. Brucher hit a double to center field, scoring Johnson. Fash's out put Brucher on the third corner, whence Kerley's single over second base into center scored him. Kibbe heaved the pit over to first just as the runner started for second, but Marone relayed the apple to Duval for the third out. It began to look as if they had a heavy hitting aggregation, but it was a fluke—an effort made before Kibbe had settled down to work in earnest.

Oneonta got a man across the counting rubber in their share of the frame. Duval, first up, hit to short, who juggled. Reiter hit to third, the baseman throwing wild to second trying to get Duval, and men were on first and second. Tryon hit a foul fly to first. Marone walked and the bases were populated all the way around. Dempsey got his first of three hits when he drove the ball through third into left for a single, scoring Duval. Reiter was sent in instead of being held at third, and a good peg by Johnson to the catcher caught him out. Kibbe hit to short, who forced Dempsey at second.

In the second, after one had been put away, Brown was granted a right to walk to first unmolested, stole second, and went to third a minute later on a wild pitch. Gardner grounded, but Duval singled to right, scoring Brown for the tying run. Duval was caught trying to steal the midway sack.

Oneonta went into the lead in the third with enough margin to win, but they put four more across in the sixth, just to be sociable. Reiter was the first one up in the third and was deadheaded to first, sacrificed to second and scored when Marone chased one out of the field over the left garden fence for a homer. With the paths empty, Dempsey singled to left. Then Kibbe doubled to the same place. Dempsey was caught at the plate, Kibbe going to third. Another double, this one by Boylen, put Kibbe across the platter. Brown hit a fly to second baseman.

By means of three doubles, an error, a stolen base and a fielder's choice, the Cubs made certain that they wouldn't lose this game. That was in the sixth, the last time that the local gang failed.

The third run the visitors got was in the sixth. Johnson was passed, went to second and third on a couple of outs, and scored when Marone let Reiter's peg of Fish's grounder drop. The Schenectady bunch put another across in the eighth inning. Kibbe slacked up somewhat in this round and granted three passes. Brucher got the first one, went to second on Fish's out. Kerley also was passed. J. Rooney pushed the ball to Duval near the second sack, and he tossed the ball to Dempsey who was on the bag, forcing out Kerley also was passed. J. Rooney Rooney was given a free trip, but Dietz hit a hot one to Marone, who smothered it and the inning and game were over.

Duffer has a new battery and an outfielder who will probably be in the game today at Walton.

FOREIGN NEWS RULES

STOCK MARKET DEALS

Domestic Industrial Conditions and Movement of Foreign Exchange Rates Are Affected

New York, Aug. 8.—The stock market during the week was sensitive to European news, domestic industrial conditions and movement of foreign exchange rates. Only momentary benefit was derived from constructive influences which ordinarily would have provided a lever for an upward movement. The Polish situation together with a drop of 15 cents in sterling caused liquidation and afforded the bears opportunity to raise prices.

The abundance of stocks for sale and the fact that there was little or no outside demand illustrated the professional character of the dealings. The bulls were unwilling to support their favorites, largely on account of the uncertainties surrounding the business outlook. Evidence of economic readjustment, together with poor earnings, the freight congestion and fuel shortages provoked discussion as to the future dividend policies of various companies.

Recognition of the benefits to be derived by the railroads from the projected rate increases and large expenditures outlined for necessary improvements caused spasmodic buying of the railroad and equipment shares. This demand ceased, however, when the selling elsewhere began to be formidable.

Virtually all quarters of the industrial list were affected and stocks in which concentrated buyings are frequent were among the weakest. Losses in the specialties ran from three to 28 points with partial recoveries.

Nalbro Bartley, Author

You have probably read some of Nalbro Bartley's short stories. Several of them have appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and her recent serial, "A Woman's Woman," was also published there. Miss Bartley is, in addition, a novelist of note. Her works are always dramatic in content and have a strong woman-appeal. She wrote "The Amateur Wife" originally for Snappy Stories Magazine, in which it appeared as "Miss Antique."

Fresh from a French convent, she was so awkward and shy that it hurt. So innocent that she thought a kiss meant betrothal! So a friend of her "show girl" mother married her out of pity and went away. When he returned, his beautiful, dashing wife was the toast of the town. Come and see what happened in the meantime!

UNADILLA WEDDING BELLS.

Miss Gladys L. Birdsall Is Married to Cecil A. Stearns.

Unadilla, Aug. 8. — For nearly the fourth time in the past year, wedding bells rang out when Cecil Arthur Stearns and Gladys Lenora Birdsall were united in marriage at Glen Brook farm, about a mile below the village, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Yale Lyon officiating. The double ceremony of the Episcopal church was used.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Birdsall of Glen Brook farm. She was graduated from the Unadilla High school with the class of 1916 and from the Oneonta Normal with the class of 1918, completing her education by taking a special course in music and drawing in Columbia college. For the past two years she has been a member of the Delta High school faculty.

The groom is the eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. B. W. Stearns of this village. He was a member of the class of 1914 of the local High school and entered the Albany Law school. Before his course was completed, he was called to the Mexican border with the ambulance company of Binghamton, of which he was a member, and served four months there. At the outbreak of the World war, Cecil was ordered to Madison barracks, where he earned his commission as second lieutenant in the motor corps. He served 29 months overseas and was discharged about a year ago with the rank of first lieutenant.

The house was very prettily decorated with white roses, sweet peas and ferns. A bay window of the parlor was heavily decorated to represent an altar, where the ceremony was performed, the bride and groom entering to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, which was played on the piano by Miss Laura Gay Smith of Delhi, a friend of the bride. The best man was Neil Stearns, brother of the groom, and Miss Ada Grace Birdsall, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride wore a gown of white headed georgette over satin and carried a bride's bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. The bride's veil was of white tulle.

After the wedding, a luncheon was served by Mrs. McGilvary and the happy couple started on a two weeks' honeymoon, after which they will be at their home in the North block.

The guests from out of town were: Miss Charlotte Weir, of Worcester, Mass.; Miss Angela Leonard Gorb of Sayville, Long Island; Miss Hazel Clearwater of Elmira; Dr. and Mrs. Grover Sullivan, Mrs. W. H. Mithard, Miss Margaret Jane Wilson, Miss E. E. Means and Messrs. John Bramly and Merwin Bergin, of Delhi; Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Birdsall and Raymond and Miss Nina Birdsall of Afton.

Silo Boys Are Victorious.

A very exciting game of baseball was played Friday evening between the employees of Nesbitt's Food plant and the Unadilla Silo force. Things went along pretty even until the sixth, when Thompson, the Nesbitt pitcher, weakened a bit and a series of wild throws resulted in seven scores for the Silo boys. The creamery boys picked up courage when Silvernail landed a homer out in the corn field and brought two scores in. The final score was a little one-sided but it was a game to help strengthen the already strong friendly feeling of the two large factories.

No better acted or produced photoplay has been seen upon the screen this year than "The Beloved Cheater," the Robertson-Cole special. This L. J. Gasnier picture has been pronounced, and not unjustly, one of the ten big pictures of the year, from all angles, and once again it offers in a type which fits him exactly, that screen ideal, Lew Cody, who is of the handsome bachelor type.

In "The Beloved Cheater" Mr. Cody plays a man who is just that. He knows all the girls, loves them all, trifles with them, wins them, casts them off, and then goes back to his Chinese waiter, who he maintains, can sew on a button or warp a pair of slippers with greater diligence and care than the most faithful of wives. The reputation which "The Beloved Cheater" has won as a "lady killer" is directly responsible for the complications of the very original story told in this picture.

Briefly it is related that the dancer of Kingston, Charles, friend of "The Beloved Cheater," is engaged to marry a girl who says she will never give her name a kiss until they are wedded.

The general summary of the annual crop and business review, issued by the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago, which is released for publication this morning, is very properly designated by that institution "The Crop Miracle of Nineteen-Twenty." The production of all important crops, it says, with the exception of wheat, will exceed that of 1919 and will be in excess of all domestic demands. The average yield per acre will be larger than in some years, the quality is excellent and the shortage in the acreage has been more than overcome. In the past two months there has been a complete reversal of the dismal forebodings which attended the plantings under climatic restrictions; ideal weather conditions have turned the prospect of partial failure into bountiful harvests, and promise of still better return in the crops that come to harvest later in the season.

The available wheat crop is now estimated at 809,500,000 bushels, which is 131,000,000 bushels less than last year; but this is offset by the fact that there still remains 101,000,000 bushels of last season's crop in farmers' hands and in elevators, which makes a total of only fifty million bushels less than the crop and carry-over a year ago. There will remain, after all food requirements and reserve for seed, 220,000,000 bushels for export; and on account of the revival of the industry abroad, and particularly in Australia and Argentina, there will be less demand from abroad than in any year since the beginning of the war. The rice crop will be practically the same as last year, though the demand for distillation which formerly took a large part of the crop has practically ceased, and the big corn yield of last year, which was 2,917,450,000 bushels, will, it is estimated, be exceeded by 138,000,000 bushels.

The oat crop of the country is estimated at 1,433,000,000 bushels, which is an increase of 185,000,000 bushels over last year, and this in face of a dismal foreboding in May and the fact that the acreage has witnessed a 1,100,000 reduction. Barley raising was reduced by prohibition, yet the yield is estimated at 10,000,000 bushels above that of 1919; and potatoes, also overcoming the dismal earlier prospects and conditions, promise an increase of 37,000,000 bushels over last year. The hay crop falls off about eight million tons, but the present figures of 63 millions is above the average of the last ten years. The cotton average was increased by late plantings, and the present estimate is 10 per cent above the crop of 1919.

There is, of course, abundant time as yet for some of the estimated crops to suffer loss; but there is also time for improvement above the estimated figures, and perhaps the one will very closely offset the other. At any rate, the figures as above presented may be assumed as fairly accurate. In the east, which depends largely on the west for the concentrated foods, such as bran and corn meal, which are essential for the dairy interests, the figures will be read with satisfaction; and, in fact, the influence of the prospective big crops is already being reflected in the daily market reports.

College Professor Booming School.

Prof. W. W. Troup of Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pa., has been in Otsego and Delaware counties for the past week interviewing prospective students in behalf of that college. Mr. Troup is the head of the Department of Ancient Languages and has made trips of a similar nature through this part of the country in former years. He is making his headquarters at the Oneonta. Westminster college is popular with students from this section and is the Alma Mater of Rev. Dr. W. B. Smiley, a former pastor, and of the Rev. Frank Caughey, the present pastor, of the United Presbyterian church here.

Hector Church Had Heirs.

Many of our readers will recall the peculiar will of Hector Church of Oxford, who, stating that he had no natural or collateral heirs, made a will leaving the bulk of his estate to a southern Civil war society for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of southern heroes of the rebellion. It is now learned that he has a goodly list of second cousins, and that the members of the Barnes family in Preston are first cousins of the deceased Civil war veteran. It is believed that the validity of the bequest will be contested by these cousins.

West End Baptist Picnic.

The annual picnic of the West End Baptist Sunday school will be held on Tuesday of this week at Neahwa park, weather permitting. The children are requested to meet at the church promptly at 10 a. m. All members of the church, congregation and Sunday school are cordially invited to come and have a good time. Those who have not been solicited are requested to bring sandwiches.

25,000 BOOKS IN LIBRARYReport for Past Year Shows There
Are 2,284 Permanent Borrowers—
Large Gain in Circulation.

The annual reports of the Otsego Public Library for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, were made to the city and state departments as usual and showed a gain in the various activities of the institution.

The city requires only a financial accounting and estimate and the state asks in addition to that a detailed summary of the library's work as a part of the educational extension work of the state. Some of the facts in the latter department are interesting as showing the continued growth of the library.

For books there was expended during the year $1,490.24 and for periodicals and indexes $188.24. 1,289 books were purchased, 449 of which were for the children's department. In the circulating collection, the library has now approximately 17,500 books, which with the other collections, including the Huntington books which are for reference and use at the library, the full number is nearly 25,000.

A complete re-registration of borrowers was begun July 1, 1919, so that the complete number registered to date means active readers.—2,234 permanent borrowers; 156 temporary readers last year, and 192 registered up to the present time this year—since July 1.

Through fines, membership fees of borrowers from other towns, sale of old paper and rentals, the library took in during the year, $364.41. Of this, the largest amount was from fines, $272.34. This money was used in helping defray the running expenses of the library.

A large gain was made in the circulation of books. In 1919, the library reported a gain of nearly 8,000 in circulation over the preceding year, which was unique among library reports of the year, as most of them had to report a loss, owing largely to decreased support for that year. This year, the library gained 8,383 in circulation, the total number circulated being 58,569—37,767 adult, 20,742 juvenile. The greatest gain per cent was made in books for children, the next in non-fiction. This is due largely to the increased use of the library by the high school students for their school work in English, history and debates.

There is, besides, a noticeable increase by adult readers in the use of books that deal with their special hobbies or interests. At the present time, there is an unusual demand for books on all phases of business, office methods and management, advertising and selling policies.

In the past four years the circulation per capita for the city has been raised from a little less than 2 to 5 1/2, a creditable showing for a city of this size. With the enlarged and adequate housing now given to the library, there should be in this coming library year a decided increase in all lines of service.

Tramps Ordered to Leave Town.

Two young men were in police court Saturday morning charged with disorderly conduct and were given six months in the county jail by City Judge Huntington. They were William Riley, 19, of Troy, and William Scott, 21, alias William Jones, negro, of Springfield, Ohio. They were arrested Friday evening by Officer O'Dell and spent the night in the city jail. Both are said to have been roaming about the country in tramp fashion and one has quite a police record. Judge Huntington gave them the choice of leaving town or spending six months in jail and they accepted the former.

Fist Fight Ends in Arrest.

As the result of a fist fight in front of the Oneonta hotel last Saturday night, Charles Cole is in the city jail awaiting arraignment this morning on a charge of assault in the third degree. It is alleged that Cole and one Warren Crant engaged in an argument which resulted in blows, and ended when Crant turned Cole over to Patrolman Wall on a charge of assaulting him. Cole was placed in the city jail and will face Judge Huntington this morning to explain the affair.

Shakespeare Class Enjoys Outing.

The Shakespeare class of the Women's club held an enjoyable outing last Thursday at Mrs. E. A. Ferguson's camp on Goodyear lake. Twenty ladies of the class were guests of Mrs. Ferguson for the day and had a most enjoyable time. A delicious luncheon was served at noon and the remainder of the day was spent in the enjoyment that is always to be found about the shores of Goodyear.

GREAT CENTRAL NEW YORK FAIRWILL BE BIGGER AND BETTER
THIS YEAR THAN EVER.

Liberal Premiums and Purse Attract Exhibitors and Horsemen—Abundance of Special Attractions and Big Floral Parade—And Admission as Ever is Only 25 Cents.

The high cost of paper has not influenced the management of the Oneonta Union Agricultural society in the production of its fair book for the year 1920, which was issued on Saturday and can now be had at the Wilber National bank or on application to the secretary, W. Earl Parish. A perusal of the book, which this season consists of 52 broad pages, and which typographically reflects credit upon the Herald printshop, shows that the same liberal policy which by its production is indicated has been followed throughout. There is no feature of the fair in other years which will not have its counterpart this season. Liberal premiums in every department have been offered, and the result will unquestionably be the same fine display of cattle, sheep and horses, farm and domestic products, household goods, canned goods, ladies' work, etc., which have always been features of the fair; and exhibitors and visitors alike will be assured a worthwhile exhibition.

In the department of races the sum of $4,000 has been set aside for purses in the eight big races—two each day, beginning on Tuesday, September 21, and continuing each of the four exhibition days of the fair. The purse in each race is $500, and these liberal figures assure large entries, full classes and sharp and to-the-finish contests. The lovers of good horses and of speedy races will find something to please them every fair day.

While the fair society doubtless follows its annual policy of not announcing all its special attractions, preferring to keep something "up the sleeve" for a later date, the features given in the fair book are numerous and of high quality. There are, among others, the Milano Brothers in their wonderful aerial acts; Mlle. Theresa and company in the animal acts in which three people, eight dogs, twenty pigeons and one monkey take part; the original skating bear, who shows the latest tricks in roller skating; Fred's trained pigs in a remarkable exhibition of the trainers' art; and the Rosa Rentz trio in a sensational combination of mid-air and other acrobatic feats. These are all shown on the roof garden and its costs nothing extra to witness them.

The floral parade will again be one of the big features of the fair by which it was introduced in Central New York. The premiums in the sixteen classes aggregate about $1,500; and they are so numerous that anybody who enters is practically sure of being a winner.

The foregoing brief resume indicates but briefly what the Oneonta fair is to be this year. Tuesday, September 21, will be Old Home day for Otsego, Delaware, Chenango, Schoharie and Ulster counties; Wednesday, September 22, will be Kingston day; Thursday will be Scranton, Carbondale and Schenectady day and Friday will be Albany and Binghamton day. Every day will be everybody's day and a big day for patrons.

Moreover, while most other things have advanced in price, the cost of admission to the Oneonta fair remains as ever—25 cents.

Canned and Cured Meats Show Big
Falling Off for the Period
Covered.

There was very little difference in the quantity of fresh and refrigerated beef imported into the United States in 1919 and 1920. The figures are taken from the meat inspectors' reports, bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture. In 10 months ended in April, 1919, 27,673,105 pounds of fresh and refrigerated beef were imported. In the period ending at the corresponding time in 1920 the quantity of fresh and refrigerated beef arriving in the United States from foreign countries was 27,965,859 pounds, an increase of about a quarter of a million pounds.

Fresh and refrigerated meats of other kinds jumped to twice the quantity in the 10 months ending April, 1920, as for the same period in 1919. The figures show 7,933,377 pounds for 1919 and 14,979,663 pounds for 1920. But the canned and cured meats imported during the same periods show a remarkable drop from 128,824,348 pounds in 1919 to less than 2,000,000 pounds in 1920. This item accounts for the marked decrease in the total meat products imported. The total weight imported in the 1919 period was 168,602,911 pounds, but 1920 brought only 50,246,655 pounds.

—The Cubs lost their game at Corland yesterday by the score of 8 to 2. The local boys had not yet returned at an early hour this morning and further details of the contest are therefore lacking.

—Howard L. Butts of 1 Tilton avenue captured a brown trout 24 inches long and weighing four pounds and ten ounces, Sunday afternoon—probably the largest specimen ever captured by an Oneonta fisherman. Mr. Butts was fishing in the Delaware river near Bloomville with a five-ounce fly rod and using a small trout spinner for bait when he hooked the trout. After a long struggle and with the assistance of Mrs. Butts, who was in her bathing suit and waded into the river to her waist, he succeeded in landing the beauty. The trout will be on exhibition at the store of A. M. Butts today and doubters can satisfy themselves that this is a true fish story.

CHILD IS VICTIM OF MAD DOG

FOUR-YEAR-OLD GEORGE CRANDALL DIES OF RABIES AFTER BEING BIT SIX WEEKS PREVIOUS.

Case Puzzles Physicians, Symptoms of Dreaded Disease Not Developing Until It Was Too Late—Dog Dies Natural (?) Death After Being Released From Veterinarian's Observation—Funeral of Victim Today.

Victim of the savage attack of a mad dog, George Elmer Crandall, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crandall, died Saturday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock at the family home, 26 Columbia street. Rabies was assigned as the cause of his death.

About six weeks ago, the lad was badly bitten by a Boston bulldog owned by Herbert Murphy of Clinton street. While the boy was passing along the street, the dog is said to have rushed out and savagely attacked the defenseless lad, badly tearing the flesh on his face and also inflicting wounds on other parts of the body. Dr. Latcher was summoned and did all that was possible to make the boy comfortable, cauterizing and dressing the injuries in order to prevent possible infection.

The boy appeared to be making a good recovery and the family's fears that the injuries might develop into something more serious were about to be dispelled, when on Tuesday of last week he was taken sick and appeared to be rapidly growing worse. Dr. Latcher having left the city, Dr. Marx was summoned and as the case presented puzzling features, he called Dr. Smith and Health Officer Augustin into consultation, but it was not until late in the week that the lad's ailment was finally diagnosed as rabies.

A message was at once sent to New York to have serum rushed to Oneonta in an effort to relieve the lad's distress, but it had not yet reached here yesterday. The serum cannot be kept on hand by physicians, but must be fresh from the laboratories, thus necessitating sending to New York for it.

Dr. Marx states that it is unusual when a person has been bitten on unprotected flesh for such a long period to elapse before the disease manifests itself. Cases have been known where when a person is bitten through the clothing rabies has not set in until a year or more afterward, but when the unprotected flesh is affected, it is usually only a short time before the ailment manifests itself. Another unusual fact was that the boy seemed glad to take a drink of water at any time, whereas victims of rabies are usually averse to the taste of water.

Immediately after the boy was attacked by Murphy's dog, the animal was seized by the police and taken to Dr. Brand's veterinary stables, where it was under observation for a week. Had the dog been known to have rabies, it would have been killed at once, but as the symptoms were not evident, it was confined for observation. About a week later, Mr. Murphy secured an order from the police department directing that the animal be released, and as the dog then evidenced no signs of madness, even playfully following its master, it was released. Its freedom was short lived, however, for a few days later it died, presumably of poisoning. So far as is known, no other children, or any dogs, had been bitten by the animal during its madness.

Funeral services for the victim of the unfortunate circumstance will be held at noon today at the family home. It is expected that Rev. Dr. E. J. Farley will officiate, and burial will be at the Plains cemetery. George was born in Meridale on July 17, 1916, but came to Oneonta with his parents a few months later when Mr. Crandall took up employment in the D. & H. rounhouse here, where he is now engaged. He was a bright little fellow, full of youthful happiness, and was a favorite with the residents of the section where he lived his short life. Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Walter and Guy, and two sisters, Ruth and Beatrice, all living at home. To the heartbroken parents the sympathy of many friends will be extended in their hour of bereavement.

This is the first time in years that a person has died of rabies in Oneonta, although several animals believed to be carrying the deadly disease have been dispatched. It should serve as a reminder to all dog owners to be watchful of the actions of their pets and at the first sign of madness on the part of the animals to notify the proper authority, the city health officer.

BAND PAVILION IS NEEDED

SEATS FOR PUBLIC AT CONCERTS WOULD BE MUCH APPRECIATED.

Large Crowds Present at Programs Given Saturday Evening and Sunday Afternoon by Company G and City Bands—Oneonta Behind Other Cities in Providing for Summer Entertainments.

Two highly-appreciated band concerts were given over the week-end and both served to point to the need of a suitable pavilion or other outdoor location where the public may gather and hear the concerts with more enjoyment—and comfort. At present, the city lacks a suitable bandstand, the one in Brown park having been condemned as unsafe, and hence it is suggested that there is no time better than the present to effect an improvement. What the city needs is a band pavilion with seats for the public, where concerts can be given under more satisfactory conditions than at present, when those not fortunate enough to be the possessors of automobiles are forced to stand for an hour or more and by the time the concert is over have grown weary. Though it is perhaps too late to make the needed improvement this year, the matter should nevertheless be agitated and definite action taken to see that by next summer Oneonta will not be behind other cities in providing for recreation for its citizens.

The Sunday afternoon concert given yesterday on the lawn of the Elks' home by the City band was, in the opinion of those who have heard all the band's efforts thus far this season, the best up to date. The program was a varied one and was listened to with evident appreciation by a large crowd, including automobiles that lined both sides of the street. The band of 24 pieces was under the direction of James Keeton Jr., who again ably demonstrated his ability as a director. The feature of the program was the baritone instrumental solo by Michael Chiorrelli, who played elegantly on his horn and who was ably accompanied by the band.

The program of the concert, which was the fifth of a series given independently and gratuitously by the City band was as follows:

March—Maid of the Mist. (Warner).
Overture—The Golden Dragon. (King).
Baritone Solo—Fancy Free. (Smith).
Mr. Chiorrelli, with band accompaniment.
Valse Romantique—Alpine Sunset. (King).
Selection—Macushla, from Chauncey Olcott's Play. (Ball).
Porto Rican Dance—Rosita. (Missard).
Serenade—Beauty Dreams. (McFall).
Novelty—Sally Trombone. (Fillmore).
Tone Poem—Southern Breezes. (Atherton).
March—The Banquetters. (Holmes).
Company G Concert Pieces.

Despite the threatening weather and brief thunder shower of Saturday night, there was a large and enthusiastic crowd present at the concert given by Company G band on the lawn of the Wilber house at the corner of Main street and Ford avenue. Eight o'clock came along with a rather brisk electrical storm and a dash of rain, but shortly after 8:30, the hour set for the concert to begin, the rain let up and the band started on its third public concert of the season. A fine program was rendered under the direction of W. S. Duesler and everyone pronounced it a splendid entertainment.

The program follows in full:
March—W. M. B. (Hall).
Serenade—Lover's Response. (Miller).
March—Still Alarm. (Lincoln).
Overture—Extremepore. (Hayes).
March—Cincinnati. (Vander Cook).
Serenade—The Twilight Hour. (Myers).
Selection—Around the Campfire. (Seredy).
March—Greeting to Bangor. (Hall).
Overture—The Mystic Maze. (Dallber).
March—Passing in Review. (Aldrich).

REPAIRING ONEONTA ARMORY.

Commissioners Ask Proposals for Alterments to Building and Range.

The State Board of Armory commissioners, who have for some time had under consideration a number of changes and betterments to the state armory building and rifle range, have prepared a notice which will appear in The Star of tomorrow, and which will be of interest to contractors in city and vicinity. The repairs to the armory itself will be embraced in three divisions. Division A embraces pointing of exterior masonry, patching of tile and plaster, renewal of exterior painting, some interior painting and other minor repairs. Division B embraces some new roofing, repair of slate and metal roofings and coating all metal roofing. The remaining division consists of repairs to the drill hall.

Separate proposals will be received for the latter, but those for Divisions A and B may be made separately or together.

The work at the field range consists of altering the concrete markers providing the grades and earth banks. Bids will be received at the headquarters of the board in Albany until 3 p. m. on Thursday, August 19, when they will be opened and announced. It is the intention of the commission to have all the work completed this fall.

Scouts Off This Morning.

Last night was a long and weary one for the Boy Scouts who are planning to have the time of their lives for the next week. All are expected to meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 8 o'clock this morning prepared for the trip and outing. If enough cars are on hand to take 17 lively lads and their outfits to the stamping grounds at Goodyear lake, every one will get an early start but otherwise some may have to wait or make it an early morning hike. The executive council is doing all in its power to make the boys enjoy this outing and would appreciate the cooperation of any citizens who are so disposed.

DAREDEVIL STEEPLEJACK

This picture shows Robert Burns of Chicago, who makes his living painting steeples, chimneys, towers, etc. But in this picture he is earning his weekly wage demonstrating for one of the large insurance companies how other painters fall and are killed.

A short time before this picture was taken a painter was killed by a fall from this chimney, and Mr. Burns is showing how it happened.

He has a long rope and springs attached to his back to break the fall. Mr. Burns has a monopoly in his line, for there are very few applicants for this job.

FRESH AIR BOY APPRECIATIVE

New Yorker Who Visited Oneonta in Youth Stops Here Again.

A note written on Oneonta hotel stationery and received Saturday by The Star read as follows:

"While passing through this section, a New York Tribune Fresh Air boy of 1891 stopped off at Oneonta as a tribute to and in fond remembrance of Mrs. Rhoby S. Williams, whose kindness gave two happy weeks of sunshine to a boy of the big city.

"Henry Teschnacher, 456 Senator street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

Inquiry revealed that Mrs. Williams, the deceased wife of William H. Williams, the meat market proprietor, in years past, Oneonta was the Mecca every summer of a score or more of Fresh Air youngsters and Mr. Teschnacher had not forgotten his good times despite the 30 years that had intervened from the time he was a guest at the Williams home.

Afton Woman Dies of Injuries

Mrs. Frank A. Leam, 65 years of age and a resident of Afton, was struck by an automobile on Thursday morning last, just as she was crossing the road in front of the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Demoree of Harpersville, receiving injuries from which she died on Friday. She had just alighted from the Binghamton-Afton stage and stepped from behind it just in the track of a passing motor car driven by a Binghamton party. She received a broken leg, several bruises and probably internal injuries. Her husband, who is a contractor at Afton, survives her, and also six children. Mrs. Leam was just recovering from a serious surgical operation, and it is believed that her system could not withstand the shock. The funeral was held Sunday at St. Luke's church in Harpersville and burial was at Nineveh.

DEATH OF MRS. HOWARD L. DAY.

Respected Resident of Oneonta Expires at Midnight of Saturday.

Lena Scrambling Day, daughter of the late Egbert A. and Isabella (Story) Scrambling and wife of Howard L. Day of this city, died at 12 o'clock midnight on Saturday at the Day summer home on their farm at the Plains. She had been for several years a sufferer from chronic diabetes, but it was not until Saturday morning that her symptoms became such as to cause alarm.

The funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. on Tuesday at the family home at 14 Church street. In the absence of her pastor, Rev. Dr. B. M. Johns, the services will be conducted by Rev. S. A. Terry and burial will be in the Scrambling family plot in Glenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Day was born at Portland, Maine August 4, 1870, but while she was yet a child the family removed to Oneonta, where Mr. Scrambling was connected with David Wilber's bank, and from later until his death with the Wilber National bank, as cashier. She was married in 1894 to Howard L. Day, then of Utadilla, but after one year Mr. and Mrs. Day moved to this city, which ever after was their home, and where she had a wide circle of friends to whom the news of her demise came yesterday as a great shock. She was a member from early life of the Methodist Episcopal church, and so long as health permitted a regular attendant upon its services. She was also a member of the Woman's Home Missionary society of that church and of the Woman's club of Oneonta. A lovable, much respected woman, a devoted wife, a faithful friend and a good neighbor, she had made for herself an enduring place in the memory of all who knew her; and their sympathy will be extended to the husband who by her death is so greatly bereaved.

Mrs. Day is survived by her husband and by one aunt, Mrs. Seymour Crandall of Otego, also by several cousins, but by no other near relatives.

TRAFFIC RULES STRINGENT.

Cooperstown Bar Association Asks 20 Miles Be Made Speed Limit.

Cooperstown, Aug. 8. — The Cooperstown Bar association has addressed a letter to the president and board of trustees of this village, protesting that the traffic rules recently laid down are stringent.

"It is the opinion of this association," the letter reads, "that it is for the best interests of the village of Cooperstown that the motorcycle traffic officer now employed by you be instructed that no motorist be arrested unless he or she is driving at a rate exceeding 20 miles per hour, or in a careless or reckless manner. You all appreciate that a speed of 15 miles per hour is very slow and it is with great difficulty that many machines can be reduced to that speed on a down grade on a paved street. You also appreciate that 20 miles per hour is not an excessive speed or one that is likely to endanger the lives of pedestrians when the car is driven by a careful driver. It does not seem that it will create a good impression of our village if at the corporation limits we have a sign welcoming visitors and on the other side of the sign an officer to arrest them if they do not immediately reduce their speed to 15 miles per hour."

Native of Cooperstown Dead.

Cooperstown relatives were notified on Saturday of the death of Mrs. Parthena Weeks Root Marvin at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Hiller, in Carbondale, Pa., of heart trouble. Mrs. Marvin was born in Cooperstown on July 13, 1859, the second child of Charles L. and Henrietta (Weeks) Root. She attended Cooperstown High school and was graduated under Dr. John G. Wight. Later she attended Syracuse university for two years and Wellesley for one year, taking special courses in each institution. On August 25, 1891, she was married to Mr. Marvin and they went to Syracuse, where he was a teacher. Later, they were in Texas for a short time and then came to Schenectady, where Mr. Marvin was superintendent of schools. He resigned here to become registrar of Yale, where he remained until his death two years ago.

While at Yale, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin lived at Woodmont, a suburb of New Haven, Conn., and the widow continued to live there until last month, when she decided to return to her native town, Cooperstown. Her daughters had arranged to bring her household goods here and Mrs. Marvin's arrival was expected any day, her death being a shock to all.

Funeral services will be held in the Methodist church at 11:30 Monday afternoon. Two personal friends of the Root family, Rev. N. B. Ripley and Rev. T. F. Hall, will officiate, and burial will be in the Milford cemetery. Mrs. Marvin is survived by four children, Beatrice, Donald, Dorothy and Vincent, all of this village; one sister, Mrs. Hiller of Carbondale; and two brothers, Charles F. and Kenneth W. Root of Cooperstown.

No Doubt Who Was Born.

Sometimes it is easy to see, even before a couple is married, just which one is going to be the boss of the household. Recently a big, robust woman stepped into the office of Registrar of Deeds Adler Johnson. "Is this where I get a license?" she asked. "What kind of a license?" asked Adler.

"A marriage license," said the woman.

"No, we don't handle them," said Adler. "Go to the first door down the hall on your right."

"I knew at first that this wasn't the place," said the big woman, with an air of disgust; "that's what I told him." Thereupon she stepped into the hall, and when the door opened Adler could see a little man waiting outside.

It was evident that the woman had usurped command and was going to take charge of the marriage license business, not to mention, of course, the honeymoon and all the rest of the alliance.—Fort Scott (Kan.) Tribune.

Australian Rabbits Selling Fast.

Rabbits have been doing great damage in the grazing districts of Australia, and strenuous efforts to eradicate them has resulted in the killing of a vast number of these animals. Some 100,000 bodies are now in cold storage awaiting shipment to England. The embargo on the export of rabbit skins was removed in December last, and the boom in rabbit-skin prices has produced remarkable competition in slaughtering the pest. The ruling average price paid to trappers for skins is now $1.82 per pound, and the demand for skins by the United States and European markets is so great that it cannot be satisfied, and it is thought that prices will go still higher. Experienced trappers are making up to $97 per week for the skins alone.

The Older Word Preferable.

Reporting a fire the other day a New York paper said: "A shirt in the wind prevented the entire plant from being destroyed." As "shirt" and the word intended are both defined in the dictionary as "an undergarment for the body," the error wasn't such a bad one.—Boston Transcript.

Eye Drill for Flyers.

The royal air force of England has instituted an eye drill that has made many splendid pilots out of men who would otherwise have been useless. It was discovered that a large percentage of men only use one eye at a time, and in the early days pilots were not tested for eye balance. Many men were then passed into the air service who could never land correctly. When these deficiencies were discovered a school was formed and under an eye specialist twice a day airmen undergoing the cure were paraded for eye drill and taught how to use both their eyes at the same time. The result was that 95 per cent of the men who would have been bad pilots became good ones in a little while.
